

Derrick Harris and Zach Jones in Concert

Sunday, March 9th, 7-9pm at the Tally Ho Theater

Potomac Hills Presbyterian Church invites you to join us to hear two wonderful singer-songwriters who are on staff at local churches. Each will have a band to play their version of folk rock and acoustic music. We're excited to be holding this at the Historic Tally Ho in downtown Leesburg.

Derrick Harris

The headliner, Derrick Harris, is the youth pastor at McLean Presbyterian Church, and has recorded 3 full-length projects. He describes his music this way: "I try to play music that I like and that I think is honest. My music reflects what is going on in my life. I believe that there is hope in life, hope that can only be found through relationship with God." See Derrick's bio, pics, discography, etc. at www.derrickharris.com.

Zach Jones

The opening act, Zach Jones, is the worship leader and youth pastor at Grace Community Church in Ashburn. He has contributed songs to two Sovereign Grace Music CDs. You can read about Zach and hear song samples at: www.sovereigngracemusic.org/artists/zach_jones
